

ORGANIC

- supported by
- Visegrad Fund
- •

What is the purpose of organic certification?

Certification enables organic products to be commercialised within the European Union

For which category of products?

For agricultural raw materials and food products

Who are the recipients of this organic certification?

Farmers, producers, processors, distributors, importers, exporters, restaurant owners and any other stakeholder of the agri-food sector

WWW.ECOCERT.COM

The essentials

climate and environment protection
conservation of soil fertility
preservation of biodiversity
respect of natural cycles and animal welfare
absence of use of chemical and synthetic products,
absence of GMO (genetically modified organisation)
transparent labelling for consumers

Why choose Ecocert?

With nearly 30 years of experience for audit and certification of organic products in more than 130 countries, Ecocert is the world's leading specialist in the certification of sustainable practices.

Which inputs are suitable for organic farming?

A directory of products compliant or suitable for organic farming is available on our website

www.intrants.bio

Certification by Ecocert: what is it?

It's a rigorous process that consists of an independent and impartial certification body assessing the conformity of a product, service or system with environmental and social requirements specified in a standard.

At the end of the certification process, Ecocert issues a decision and when positive, delivers a written assurance called a certificate.

What is a standard?

It is a functional document listing all the criteria to be implemented as well as the control procedures for obtaining certification and the associated labels.

All the standards selected by Ecocert promote practices with a positive impact on the environment and society.

How are organic products certified by Ecocert?

Ecocert has an international network in more than 130 countries to verify in the field the conformity of practices with organic specifications.

The entire supply chain is audited, from the raw material to the finished product.

Ecocert carries out at least one annual on-site inspections, supplemented by additional unannounced audits during the year.

Samples may also be taken for laboratory analysis.

The audit reports are then independently verified by our teams in order to certify organic products.

The certification process at Ecocert in 5 key steps

1. The request: Ecocert's team advises you on the labels best suited to the needs
2. Contract
3. Initial audit: Ecocert's auditors make on-site visits to check the compliance of the systems, practices and products with the corresponding standards.
4. Review of the certification file: Ecocert's certification officers review the conclusions of the audit report to decide if certification may be granted
5. Certification: Ecocert's team has issued the certificate. At this point, the community/group can display the logo associated with the standard on the labels with a transparent communication.

Project ID #/Title: 21930290, A Voice for Tropoja 2.0 Cooperating to Empower Rural Communities in Sustainable Development

www.intrants.bio

Map of inputs reviewed (Documentary Review) or atested by ECOCERT (Show the map of suppliers)

Zoom in on the map to find a supplier or product.

Develop skills

Ecocert's solutions are suitable for all types of companies, local authorities, institutions, or individuals.

They aim at developing the skills to tackle environmental and social issues.

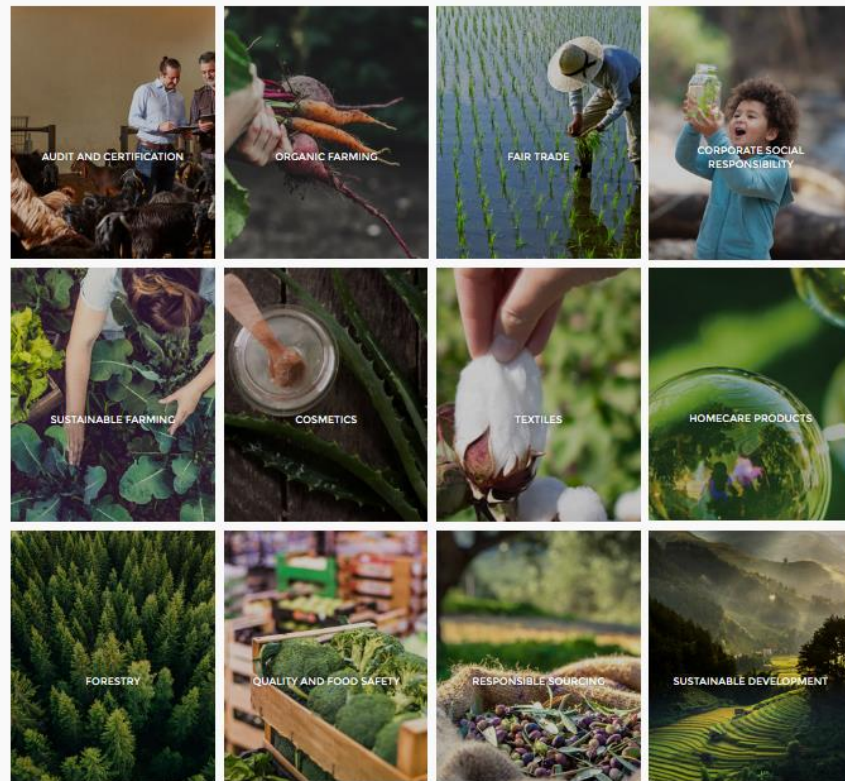

Ecocert's trainers work in their field of expertise, adopting an operational and pragmatic approach.

Project ID #/Title: 21930290, A Voice for Tropoja 2.0 Cooperating to Empower Rural Communities in Sustainable Development

Audit and certification
Organic farming
Fair trade
Corporate social responsibility
Sustainable farming
Cosmetics
Textiles
Homecare products
Forestry
Quality and food safety
Responsible sourcing
Sustainable development

<https://www.ecocert.com/en/training>

Our training courses

Discover our training programs
Need a tailor-made training?

CONTACT US

A Win
Aktiválja

